

State Officials Go After Soft Drinks Using Saccharin

The referee board of consulting scientific experts, attached to the United States department of agriculture, conducted an investigation as to the effect on health of the use of saccharin in accordance with these findings the referee board, the United States department of agriculture, on May 1, 1920, rendered a decision that all foods containing saccharin would be deemed adulterated within the meaning of the United States food and drug act.

In accordance with the above decision the commissioner of food and drugs, state of Tennessee, caused to be issued, March 2, 1920, a decision to the effect that the Tennessee department of food and drugs will in the future regard as adulterated under the Tennessee food and drug act all foods containing saccharin which are manufactured or offered for sale in this state. This department has found that one of the most prevalent uses of this material is in soft drinks, and owing to the present high price and scarcity of sugar the temptation to substitute saccharin is greater, especially with the small bottlers. Recent analysis of bottled soda waters show that a number of the bottles in this state are using saccharin. The inspection department have been instructed to collect samples of soda waters throughout the state for analysis and the various firms or corporations found using this adulterant in food or food products, will receive notification.

The state department takes this occasion to warn bottlers of this state that in accordance with federal food and drug act, food inspection decision 17, the Tennessee food and drug department will consider misbranded, and get ale, containing capsaicin, which is the extract of red pepper, when the same is not so stated on the label of the container.

BATTERY A NONCOMS WILL BE APPOINTED

Noncommissioned officers for Battery A, the new Memphis national guard unit, will be appointed by Capt. John T. Shea, commander, at regular drill Monday night, and all of the 20 men enlisted during the three weeks of campaigning are ordered to report for duty at 8 o'clock. The battery needs about 10 sergeants and 13 corporals, all of whom will be selected from the enlisted personnel. Six overseas veterans probably will be among those to draw non comm appointments.

Capt. Shea Monday withdrew men on recruiting duty from active work in court square, as the success which attended the drive was so great as to make possible the enlistment of the entire personnel of 125 men within the next three weeks. The three infantry companies of the national guard in Memphis will go to encampment at Knoxville, July 15, and members of Battery A will be given the option of making the trip attached to one of these or remaining at home.

Strenuous efforts to obtain recruits for Battery A on Monday night, at regular drill, will be continued. Those who join before July 1 will be afforded a chance to make the encampment at Knoxville. As quickly as the necessary 125 men are enlisted, federal equipment consisting of four machine guns, ten motorized motorcycles, various ladders and other paraphernalia will be issued. Members of Battery A are working hard for recruits to obtain the equipment at the earliest possible moment. The third drill will be held on Monday night at the armory. Main street and Washington avenue.
